Diversity in the Workplace
Best Practices in DC Government

DEFINITIONS

GENDER IDENTITY
An individual’s internal sense of being male, female, or something else. Since gender identity is internal, one’s gender identity is not necessarily visible to others. Common examples include: male, female, genderqueer, transgender and more.

GENDER EXPRESSION
The manner in which we express our gender identity to others—one’s behavior, hairstyle, voice, clothing, etc.

SEXUAL ORIENTATION
One’s romantic and/or sexual attraction (or lack thereof) to other people.

GENDER PRONOUNS
Some examples of pronouns are:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>She/her/hers/herself</th>
<th>He/him/his/himself</th>
<th>They/them/their/themself</th>
<th>Ze/hir Zir/hirs or zirs/hirself or zirself</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>She is speaking. I listened to her. The backpack is hers.</td>
<td>He is speaking. I listened to him. The backpack is his.</td>
<td>They are speaking. I listened to them. The backpack is theirs.</td>
<td>Ze is speaking. I listened to hir. The backpack is zirs.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

If you are unsure of which pronouns to use or how someone would prefer to be addressed, simply ask politely, “How would you like to be called?” or “Which pronouns do you use?”

If someone specifically requests that you use a certain name, pronoun, or title (such as Mr., Ms., or Mx.) then you should do so. If you make a mistake in referring to someone, simply correct yourself and move on. However, repeatedly refusing to refer to someone by their correct pronouns, title, or name could be harassment.

METHODS OF INTRODUCTIONS

If a colleague or constituent who will be working with you in the future identifies themselves as LGBTQ and states a preference about using pronouns that might not be familiar to their colleagues, here are some possible ways to introduce them and how to refer to them respectfully:

- One-on-one conversations with colleagues at employee’s discretion
- Small group conversation with staff and employee, at employee’s discretion
- With employee’s approval, email employee’s Bio to agency staff, including how they would like to be referred to
- Encourage all of your employees to take the LGBTQ training course

ACCOMMODATIONS
Bathroom Best Practices/Compliance

Any individual is allowed to use whichever restroom is consistent with their gender identity or expression. The individual determines which restroom they feel most comfortable in, not their employer.

If a place of business has restrooms that are single-occupancy, all of those restrooms must be gender neutral. If a bathroom has just one toilet and is labeled “men” or “women”, report it to the Office of Human Rights either by tweeting the business name, location, and a photo using #safebathroomsDC. Or fill out a quick form on the OHR website at ohr.dc.gov/bathrooms.
